THE LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR'S VISIT.

His Honor, C. H. Mackintosh, Lieutenant Governor of the Northwest Territories, paid his first official visit to Edmonton on Monday last. He was met at the railway station by Mayor Wilson and Messrs. Edmiston and Plead of the reception committee of the town council, Messrs. Oliver, Tims and Maloney, M. L. A's, and Supt. Griesbach. The band in full force awaited the arrival of the party at the brow of the hill and on the appearance of the Lieutenant Governor played the national anthem. A procession was then formed headed by the band and His Honor was escorted to the Alberta Hotel. Nine o'clock was the hour announced for the reception but long before that time a large number of ladies and gentlemen had gathered in Robertson hall. The band was present and played the national anthem as his honor ascended the platform. The chair was occupied by Mayor Wilson. Messrs. F. W. G. Haultain, chairman of the executive committee of the Territories and R. B. Gordon, clerk of the assembly, who accompany His Honor on his tour, Judge Scott, Messrs. Frank Oliver, F. F. Tims and D. Maloney, M. L. A's, Messrs. Edmiston, Kelly, Strang, Cameron, Bellamy and Board members of the town council, M. McCauley, president of the Edmonton agricultural society, and G. J. Kinard president of the St. Andrew's society, occupied seats on the platform.

The mayor introduced His Honor, stating that he would be as brief as possible, and called upon Mr. Randall to read the following address from the town council:

To the Honorable Charles H. Mackintosh, Lieutenant Governor of the Northwest Territories.

Your Honor:—We, the mayor and council of the municipality of the town of Edmonton, in the name of all the inhabitants, have great pleasure in welcoming you, on this, the occasion of your first visit to this locality since your appointment as Lieutenant Governor of the Territories.

We are glad to know that you have happily recovered from the severe indisposition, which, to our regret, prevented your earlier intended visit.

We see, with gratification, the deep interest which you take in the affairs of the Territories at large, and your determination to learn, by personal observation the special conditions and circumstances of the various districts, in order, as we do not doubt, that you may the better do your part in satisfying such wants as may now be found to exist, or as may arise during the course of your administration.

We trust that your present official tour through this portion of the Territories, will afford you much pleasure, and that it will not be the last one which will bring you to Edmonton.

H. C. WILSON, Mayor.

A. G. RANDALL, Clerk.

EDMONTON, Feb. 25th, '95.

The Lieutenant Governor replying said, Mr. Mayor and council I have to thank you for the kind expressions you have made alluding to the recovery of my health. I am very much impressed at Edmonton's advancement and am sure with its fine locality and its surrounding advantages that it cannot but become one of the finest cities in the Northwest. I have always had faith of the Edmonton district. I have not come to the Northwest for luxury, but to join with you all in your labors, and the splendid successes, which we may look forward to. The Western States have been mentioned as on Eldorado but I have met many of late who have moved their homes from there to Edmonton district, and their only sorrow was that they had not moved long before. This country is composed of all nationalities and I trust you will learn to respect the privileges and even the prejudices of the different classes of people. I will do my best for the union of all.

The mayor then called upon the secretary of the agricultural society who read the following address:

To The Honorable Charles Herbert Mackintosh, Lieutenant Governor of the Northwest Territories.

The Edmonton district agricultural society beg to extend to your Honor a hearty welcome and take this opportunity of expressing our pleasure at having you amongst us on this your first official visit to the district.

As a society we are pleased to learn that you have been successful in forming a Territorial exhibition and trust that it will be the means of stimulating farmers and stock raisers to greater exertions toward the improvement of their products.

We are proud of the Edmonton district and glad to know that the eyes of the world are upon it, as with its vast resources, mineral wealth, fertile soil and delightful climate the more it is scrutinized the more widely will its fame be known until it becomes one of the most prosperous centres of the Dominion.

We are sorry that at this season of the year you will not be able to form a just estimate of the wealth of the district, but trust that you will do us the honor of again visiting the district, when instead of a mantle of snow, you will find fields of waving grain.

Wishing your Honor a pleasant trip and trusting that you will carry away pleasant recollections of your visit to Edmonton.

Signed on behalf of the Edmonton agricultural society,

M. McCauley,

President.

J. R. TURNBULL,

Secretary.

The Lieutenant Governor in reply said that the idea of the Territorial Exhibition was to bring the people of the country together and he very much desired to have the Edmonton district join hands with him in making it a grand success. It was not a local but a Territorial exhibition, it was not done for the benefit of Regina, and he would endeavor to have tickets issued to any part of the Northwest so that parties visiting Regina could visit Edmonton or any other district at the same fare. He wanted all in the Northwest to take an interest in it. He said: "I can assure you I fully appreciate the advantages of your district, and do not think by my coming at this season of the year that it will be detrimental to your interests. I will come again and hope to rejoice over your bountiful harvest. Not to mislead you I wish to say that my mission is to work for the interests of the Territorial exhibition."

The mayor next called upon the secretary of the board of trade who read the following address:

To The Honorable Charles Herbert Mackintosh, Lieutenant Governor of the Northwest Territories.

The Edmonton board of trade heartily welcome you on this, your first official visit. We regret that illness should have caused you so much suffering and deferred this long anticipated pleasure of meeting you, but we hope that the health now so happily regained may continue and permit you to frequently visit this part of the Territory.

We have been gratified to note the interest you have displayed in the people, the progress and the prosperity of the Northwest and we are glad of the opportunity now afforded us to give you some business information of this portion of the great domain over which you are our Queen's lieutenant. The territorial limits of the Edmonton board of trade extend over that portion of Northern Alberta once the old electoral district, which is now represented in the Northwest legislature by the members for Edmonton, St. Albert and Victoria; and we feel that we should be wanting in our duty as custodians of its commercial interests were we to allow this occasion to pass without laying before you a short account of the resources and advantages, and the hopes and requirements of the district.

In no other portion of the highly favored Northwest are so many and varied blessings of nature concentrated together. A thoroughly healthy climate, well wooded and well watered parks and meadows of unsurpassed fertility, abundance of the cheapest coal on earth, and deposits of gold in the river (free to any man with a pick and shovel to gather) are here found in a land provided with magnificent natural routes for the export of its products to markets, also provided by the kind hand of nature for them.

Here a prairie portage of ninety miles separates the great waterways of the Mackenzie and the Saskatchewan valley. To the west the Rocky Mountains open their portals and invite through the Yellowhead pass the construction of a railway to carry our products to the gold fields of Cariboo, on its route to the Pacific seaboard.

Though the fur trade of Edmonton is the largest conducted by private firms in Canada, the two thousand miles of steamboat navigation down the Mackenzie to the Arctic ocean will ere long tempt Canadian enterprise to fully participate in and develop the trade of that vast fur bearing and rich mineral region. Again down stream to the east the beautiful Saskatchewan connects us with the Hudson's Bay by a route, which when improved will afford us the means of shipping to Europe as cheaply as any eastern part of the Northwest not contiguous to such a river.

While Edmonton is only nine hundred miles from Churchill on Hudson's Bay the Pacific ocean is only six hundred miles to the east. With such unique geographical discriminations in her favor nothing can check Northern Alberta if her inhabitants prove worthy of their heritage.

Free competition by water is the true solution of the railway problem and in the end will be a benefit to the railways themselves, which no longer as bad masters but as good servants of the public will establish lines from Winnipeg to the Pacific up the vast fertile valley of the Saskatchewan and on through the Yellowhead pass.

While the hopes and efforts of the Northwest are united in opening the Hudson's Bay route, in the meantime the universally complained of railway rates must be reduced and we look to your Honor and your advisers to aid us in righting these wrongs from which no part of your Territory suffers more than Northern Alberta.

The town of Edmonton, which is the headquarters of this board, is not one of the mushroom cities of the west. Two centuries ago its site was selected by those early fur traders who chose the sites of so many great American cities. The fur trading post became the business centre for their operations in the Upper Saskatchewan region and was the connecting link in their natural chain of communication between Hudson's Bay and the Pacific ocean. Gold miners came in and formed the nucleus of the agricultural settlement; the post grew to be a hamlet, then a commercial village; and finally, on the advent of the railway, became a town with all modern conveniences for the transaction of business. It now does a large and increasing export trade in grain and furs and serves as the distributing point for supplies destined for the Peace river, Athabasca and Mackenzie rivers districts beyond. Its growth has been sure and steady and is certain to continue. We believe that somewhere on this mighty river at or near Edmonton, there will arise the greatest city of the plains. As a step toward the attainment of that hope we require a traffic bridge across the river to connect our proposed electric street railway with the Calgary & Edmonton line. The bridge question is one affecting the whole district and the members of our board both from town and country are united in endorsing the site recommended by the town council of Edmonton, and we would earnestly request your Honor's influence in pressing the Dominion government for its speedy completion.

We would also remind your Honor of the probability that the petroleum deposits of Athabasca will be tapped within ninety miles of Edmonton on the resumption in spring of the boring operations undertaken by the Dominion government. Should these operations be successful the effect in still further stimulating immigration to a district which has received four-fifths of the total immigration of the Northwest, during the past year, will be immense. Even without this probable addition to its population the present circumstances of Northern Alberta require a separation electorally and judicially from Southern Alberta, which is equally desirous of seceding from the present union. We trust that in this matter also we may have your Honor's help and support.

This board of trade was organized in 1889 with the primary object of attracting the attention of homeseekers to the advantages offered by the district. This object is still a principal plank of its platform and we intend preparing for immigration purposes, a pamphlet, descriptive and statistical of the district. A project to have a grand exhibition of the natural products of Northern Alberta at Edmonton, is under discussion. Meanwhile, in conjunction with the mayor and town council, we are preparing to display a vegetable and mineral collection with geographical and geological maps of the district in our board room.

Although we were not entirely exempt from the drouth which affected several less favored portions of the Territories we had cause for thankfulness in a generally fair and in many places a harvest as bountiful as usual. Owing to our proximity to British Columbia markets our farmers receive much higher prices for their grain than those paid in Manitoba. When the railway rates are reduced in proportion to our shorter distance from these markets, even better prices will be paid to the producers who have had the enterprise not only to come west, but to come as far west as Edmonton.

We fear we have wearied your Honor with this long address but the EDMONTON, Feb. 25th, 1895.

In replying His Honor said, I remember reading a pamphlet published in 1890 by the board of trade of Edmonton and it was the best report I ever read. Edmonton is known through the Western States better than any other part of Canada and immigration from these States is all coming this way. It is gratifying to know that Canada stands to-day on a financial basis better than any other country in the world. I trust that your town will advance as it has in the past, not too rapidly but surely, I have seen so many towns embarrassed through running too heavily in debt, that I will not recommend rapid advancement. Now for the unpleasant part: the railway rates. So far as the C. P. R. is concerned they had to make a big cut down of expenses. Stock of the Northern Pacific to-day is offered for about three cents on the dollar, and other roads are likewise embarrassed. The commission lately held will no doubt endeavor, and I myself, will do all I can to secure the reduction of your high freight rates. Knowing as I did that you required a bridge here, I did all I could to induce the government to grant a sum towards it, and you will know in a very few hours that the bridge will go on. "If oil is discovered in the north, and by the reports made, we have every reason to believe that it will be, Edmonton will become a large oil refining centre. As regards a separation between Northern and Southern Alberta, I consider it is required, and when the house meets am satisfied you will have it. I am perfectly safe in saying the amount of legal business done requires a judge here, and will do my best to get you one. I am sorry to say that in the district in which I live much distress has befallen and I live much distressed. Edmonton district is so prosperous. It is celebrated by its crops never being known to fail, and as long as you cultivate harmony and good feeling towards one another, you are bound to succeed.

The mayor on calling upon Mr. Haultain, stated, that he wished to tender him, on behalf of the Edmonton people a very hearty and cordial welcome.

Mr. Haultain in reply said that he was delighted to pay his first visit to Edmonton, and believed that in Northern Alberta we had a country of vast resources.

Messrs. Oliver, Maloney and Tims, M. L. A.'s, and Mayor Wilson were also called upon at the request of His Honor and gave short addresses.

At the conclusion of the addresses His Honor held an informal reception and many of the ladies and gentlemen were presented to him.
